STUDY ABROAD

ISEP EXCHANGE

How does it work?

When you go abroad on an ISEP Exchange program, you pay your home institution's tuition, housing and meals and take the spot of a student at another ISEP university.

- Rank your preferred universities; placements depend on space available and are not guaranteed.
- Programs include packaged housing and meals.

1

EXPLORE YOUR OPTIONS

Visit our website and create an account for your search. Browse by region or use our program filters: location, dates, field of study, language of instruction and more.

2

GET IN TOUCH

Contact your university's study abroad office and meet your on-campus ISEP Coordinator. Your ISEP Student Advisor will also guide you through the application.

3

APPLY!

Rank up to 10 universities and we will place you on a program depending on space and your academic needs. Submit your application by the priority deadlines to be eligible for sites with more limited spots.
