Morehouse College Cancelled the Study Abroad
Programs for Summer 2021

In response to the Coronavirus pandemic and to ensure the safety of all of our students and community, Morehouse College has canceled all faculty-led study abroad experiences for summer 2021. We strongly encourage you to consider the risks of international travel and to take every precaution to protect your health, as well as the health of your family and community.

While we cannot prevent students from studying internationally this summer, we ask that you exercise extreme caution as you consider whether to travel internationally. If you choose to study abroad this summer, we encourage you to engage one of our study abroad partners, CIEE, IES Abroad, ISEP, Arcadia, or CAPA. These partners are carefully monitoring the circumstances at each of their international sites and are committed to your safety.

Education Abroad

The Office of International Education aims to provide every student with study abroad opportunities during their years at Morehouse.

Ready to participate in Studying Abroad?

Studying abroad provides you an opportunity to improve your global competency while meeting your academic goals. You are able to take classes to fulfill your degree requirements in other institutions. There is a study abroad program just waiting for you. "Simple exchanges can break down walls between us, for when people come together and speak to one another and share a common experience, then their common humanity is revealed.

We are reminded that we're joined together by our pursuit of a life that's productive and purposeful, and when that happens mistrust begins to fade and our smaller differences no longer overshadow the things that we share. And that's where progress begins."

The Internationalized Syllabus:
How to Structure Global and Intercultural Courses
3:00-4:30, 3/10/2021 Wed.
11:00-12:30, 3/11/2021 Thursday

The drive to internationalize higher education has seen the focus shift in recent years towards its defining element, the curriculum. As the point of connection between institutional goals and the student experience, the curriculum plays a key role in developing mindful global citizenship and intercultural competencies for students.

Internationalized courses are the building blocks of an internationalized curriculum, and your syllabus sets the parameters and expectations for how your students will prepare to navigate a complex and interconnected world. This workshop covers the elements of an internationalized course as well as strategies for structuring international and intercultural content, activities, and learning outcomes in your syllabus.

Dr. Denise Callejas, our AYCGI International Education Fellow, will lead the session and provide individual support to faculty members who wish to design or modify an existing course. Faculty interested in sharing their new or modified syllabus will have their work highlighted on the AYCGI website to represent the latest efforts to expand and to empower the Morehouse student's worldview.

Congratulations to Christian Etheredge'24
HBCU Scholar
Middlebury 2021 Summer Program

Christian Etheredge'24 is awarded the 2021 Scholarship for students of HBCUS, HSIs and Tribal Colleges to attend the Middlebury Language Schools in Chinese in the summer of 2021. It is an amazing accomplishment for Mr. Christian Etheredge.

The scholarship covers his tuition, room and board for the program to which he has been accepted. It is considered one of the best scholarships of language learning in the USA.

Congratulations to George
A. Pratt'23, 2021-2022
Luard Morse Scholar

George Pratt'23 is a sophomore at Morehouse College, where he is pursuing a degree in Religion and History. This prestigious scholarship offers George up to $25,000 towards a semester of study at a British university during his Junior Year.

Under the Luard Morse Scholarship, George intends to study within the comparative religion and social anthropology departments at the University of Manchester during the 2021-2022 academic year.
